Notable Art Exhibit At The 'Gallery'

Work Of Famed Artists Will Bring Southland Patrons To This City

Patrons of art throughout the Southland will soon be making quiet visits to Sierra Madre.

The word has gone out to them that the most noteworthy of all the creditable exhibitions of this city's celebrated "Litle Art Gallery" will be thrown open to the public next Wednesday evening, October 1.

The work of some of the best known artists of the country, both in oil and etchings, will be shown as many of them as can be advantageously hung in the auditorium of the City Hall and certainly there will be not less than 24. The present exhibition of the work of young artists and students of this city will adorn the walls until tomorrow night. On Monday the task of hanging the new pictures will begin under the direction of Mrs. Fred Griebenow, chairman of the Art Section of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club whose efforts have made recent exhibitions at "The Little Art Gallery" possible and who assembled the forthcoming collection.

Among the artists whose work will be shown are Geraldine Duncan Birch, who studied in London and Paris and who came to Sierra Madre during the war and later established a studio in Pasadena; a member of the California Art Club and the Print Maker's Club and an exhibitor in the annual art shows in New York and Philadelphia. The works of this artist are in both oil and etchings.

Alfred James Dewey, some of whose etchings and canvasses will be shown, is represented in many of the great art exhibitions of the East. He maintains a studio here and studied in the School of Art, in Philadelphia, under Howard Pyle and Henry Moesler. He is a member of the Illustrator's Club, of New York.

Albert Marshall, famed for his pictures of the mountains, is a third exhibitor of note who will be represented in the Sierra Madre "Gallery." Mr. Marshall was awarded the Julian prize while studying in San Francisco and canvasses from his brush are hung in the new Los Angeles City Hall and in the Hollywood Woman's Club.

The exhibition will be formally opened with a reception for the contributing artists and to other notable art patrons of California in the City Hall on Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the Art section of the Woman's Club. and to which the public is, of course, cordially invited.

This, the first exhibition of the season, will last for about a month and will be followed by others throughout the Winter for which arrangements are now being made.

Passing Of Miss Patton A Real Loss

Inspiration Of Many Died Here Far From Home And Relatives

By GUNHILD E. BODLE

"Remember the woman who broke the Alabaster box for the feet of the Savior while he was living—that most beautiful of all appreciations? And you know what we do? — Let our fellow-beings carry their crosses to their Calvaries, and after each has suffered his agony and entered into his peace, we go out to him and break our alabaster boxes about his stiff cold feet. I have always hoped that my religion might enable me to break my alabaster box for the living who alone can need it—and who always do need it."

The above quotation—author unknown, was found in the memorandum book of Miss Marie Jean Patton who passed away in Sierra Madre on September 13th last. To those who knew her and loved her she needs no other obituary; for she lived her faith to the fullest, and the joy and inspiration of her friendship will last in their hearts always.

She had no near relatives and the distant ones did not care to keep in touch with her; probably on account of her long illness they feared she might become a charge on their hands. That fear was their loss and Sierra Madre's gain.

Without friends, she was one of a group of health seekers cared for by the County and who are found here and there on the edges

Start Work On Great New Playground

Development Of Pine Flats And High Gear Mountain Road Under Way

Of interest to Sierra Madreans and in fact all residents of the San Gabriel valley, is the announcement of the Pasadena Park Commission, that in two years, the work on the road leading to Pine Flats, in the mountains, 29 miles north of this city, will be ready for traffic.

The completion of the road will of course open up the Pasadena playground at Pine Flats, to the public and afford local residents the advantages now enjoyed by those who have visited the Big Pines playground in the San Bernardino Mountains.

Gordon Brooks of this city, who attended a joint meeting of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the U. S. Forestry Service, held at Pine Flats to witness the opening work on the playground, states that springs are already being piped and that the construction of cabins will start in the near future.

The permanent high-gear road through the Arroya Seco which will connect Pasadena and the foothill district with Pine Flats and the desert beyond, is now well under way and when completed will enable motorists to reach the new playground without difficulty.

FAIR WEATHER OVER WEEKEND IS PROMISED

"The weather will be slightly warmer and less cloudy, over the week-end," according to Colonel H. B. Hersey, United States Metrologist at the Sierra Madre station. And he doesn't agree with those who think they can feel rain in the air.

While some slight disturbances have been sighted over the Andulusian Islands, there is little chance of rain within the next 10 days, in Col Hersey's opinion.

In all probability the temperature will show little variation after Sunday, although the forecaster admitted that this was no certainty.

Hen Misses Fair But Wins Luxury At The Home Roost

A hen in the considerable flock of Mrs. H. Meredith Place, of 237 Acacia avenue, Ontario, is living in about all the luxury it is possible to give a barnyard "Biddie." She produced an egg that has silenced the boasts of all the poultry raisers on the ranches of the citrus belt. As it was exhibited at the Chamber of Commerce it measured 9 inches in circumference and was 7½ inches from end to end. Due to the lack of efficiency nests with which modern chicken ranches are equipped it was some time before the hen's identity was discovered. The discovery came too late to have the bird exhibited at the Pomona Fair. But she is getting plenty of attention at the Place home.

'News' Is 25 Years Old Today

With this issue of THE SIERRA MADRE NEWS its 25th birthday is celebrated.

The first issue of four 4-column pages 14 inches long, was published by R. T. Cowles in little Sierra Madre on October 11, 1906.

"We intend to make it such a paper that every resident of Sierra Madre will feel that it cannot be done without," announced the publisher in the initial number.

In 1907 C. W. Hill became the editor and owner, to be followed in 1908 by George B. Morgridge who was the sole owner and editor until 1921 and editor and a part owner until 1929.

In 1918-19 and '20 the paper owned by Morgridge, was under lease to J. F. Whiting and L. E. Sharp, Mr. Morgridge again taking up the task as editor in 1921. In 1926 Joe R. Eastwood bought a half interest in the publication and associated himself with Mr. Morgridge.

In 1929 Joseph T. Asbury bought the remaining half interest of Mr. Morgridge and associated himself with Mr. Eastwood.

The present ownership dates from March 1, of this year when Mr. Eastwood went to Eagle Rock and Mr. Asbury to Richfield, Utah.

Home Exhibition Opens Today; May Be Made Permanent

Tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock the doors of the Sierra Madre Community Service Building will be opened to the public, to foster an exhibition which its founders hope can be made permanent.

All sorts of ideas, models, plans and equipment for those who want to modernize their homes will be on display. Hundreds of sketches of ideal large and small homes will be available for those who wish to build that 'lo've nest" they have dreamed of making reality, while the latest architectural inovations will be accessable to those desiring "space savers."

In a model kitchen, sponsored by the Southern Counties Gas Company, Miss Cleo McGuire, an expert dietician, will conduct a cooking school for those who crave new dishes to keep their husbands home nights and many Sierra Madre women will assist Miss McGuire in entertaining the crowds expected.

The Sierra Madre Lumber company has spent much time and effort toward making the affair a success and various merchants have contributed prizes which will be awarded during the exhibit.

Veterans Aid Purpose Of Concert

Thayer-Rasbach Appearance Is For Relief Of Disabled Soldiers Here

With the Thayer-Rasbach concert for the benefit of the Legion Post Disabled Veterans Welfare Fund less than a week away, the committee in charge of ticket selling reports that the prospects are very bright for a record audience.

The music study clubs in the surrounding cities, especially Pasadena, Monrovia and Covina, have shown great interest and many groups are arranging to attend. Pasadeneans in particular are enthusiastic over the prospect of again hearing these two artists who have charmed them in previous appearances.

Legion Posts in adjacent communities have shown a most gratifying willingness to help along the sale of tickets, particularly when their attention has been called to the large number of disabled veterans in this city.

Speaking of this angle of the situation, Post Commander Roy C. Pickett said: "If we could only make our people realize the size of the problem that our Post and Auxiliary must wrestle with! We not only have the normal number of war casualty cases that any town has, but, because of the peculiar benefits of our location and climate, we have disabled men and their families coming to us from all over the country.

Get More Than Value

"In proportion to our size and resources, we have several hundred percent more demands upon our hearts and purses than the average post. So far this post has been able to take care of this problem without asking assistance from the State or National organizations. We are proud of that record and hope to maintain it.

"I speak for every member of our organization when I urge our own town people to give us all the support they can in this effort to raise the necessary money to take care of these disabled men through the coming winter.

Purchasers of tickets will get much more than full value for the price in the music they will be privileged to hear. The price

Big Change In Tax Laws Is Forecast

Readjustment Of System Expected When Rolph Takes Office

By ELWOOD SQUIRES
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, CAL.— Sept. 26—"There's going to be some changes made" is the theme song at the state capitol these days, with a new administration assured within four months.

And those political observers whose fancy turns toward tax matters assert that the field of taxes will probably be more affected by these "changes" than any other one subject.

Readjustment of at least a portion of the state tax system is anticipated soon after Mayor Rolph steps into the governor's office.

Probably the first step will be toward remodeling the tax on banks and corporations and in this it is rumored that Rolph will ask the cooperation of the State Board of Equalization.

If he does it will be the means by which this state body will emerge from an extended stay in political obscurity. For the Young administration and the equalization board have been "going round and round" for many a long month on the subject of taxes.

Inasmuch as the administration had the upper hand the board was forced to stand in the corner most of the time. The board saw its authority to administer the franchise wrested from it and given to an appointed commissioner. It also was informed indirectly that no one was interested in its opinion of the advisability of junking the franchise tax and substituting the four per cent net income tax on banks and corporations.

But all's well now as far as the board is concerned. Rolph and the board are understood to be extremely friendly and it need surprise no one if Rolph comes out with an announcement some day in the not too far distant future that "he and the Board of Equalization" have worked out a new tax plan for California's banks and corporations.

It probably will not go further into the state tax system than this one item, at least for the present, but doom of the existing plan of taxing banks and corporations seems certain.

Provide New Ball Field For School

More Land Bought— City Gives Street— Happenings In The Council

Acquisition by the Board of Education of approximately 5,000 square feet of property adjoining that of the grammar school and consumation of an agreement between the Board and the City Council by the terms of which the city will enclose that portion of Hermosa avenue adjoining the school, will give the city and the school a real base ball and athletic field.

The deal by which the school secures additional private property is now in escrow and title may be taken by the Board of Education most any day. The price to be paid is about $200.

Following the appearance before the Council at its meeting on Wednesday night of President J. O. Smith, of the school board, the Council authorized Mayor Albert S. Meyers and City Clerk Elmer A. Green to execute an agreement providing for use of the unused portion of Hermosa avenue for school purposes.

The baseball and athletic field will be graded and laid out in the general landscape scheme of the new $210,000 school building in such manner as to show the school building off to the best possible advantage and afford the greatest opportunity for athletics.

The matter of a four-way boulevard stop at Highland and Auburn avenues was brought before the ciuncil by J. O. Smith, president of the Board of Education, who argued that the corner attending the school there was unsafe for children. Acting upon his recommendation the

Work Of The Red Cross Is Commended

National Officer Approves Activities Here and Future Plans

"I know of no other community which has managed its work as efficiently, as the Sierra Madre Red Cross and the way its officials have dealt with local home service problems speaks highly for the chapter."

So stated Miss Edith Chaffee, Southern California representative of the National organization, at the Wednesday meeting of the local chapter.

Plans submitted by W. R Humphries, president, and the directors of the local chapter for the organization of the comin roll call campaign, were approve by Miss Chaffee, as well as the schedule of work planned by the chapter for local relief work and First Aid measures.

Miss Chaffee stated that the National five million dollar relief fund had been severely depleted by demands made on it by necessary relief measures in the drought ridden states and that it would be necessary for all chapters throughout the Nation to aid in replenishing the fund.

Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, in charge of the Sierra Madre Junior Red Cross, reported a group from St. Rita's church will join the organization. Members are preparing 30 boxes which will be sent to children in Japan this fall, in accordance with an annual custom.

Mrs. M. D. Welsher who is making plans again this year to send Braille Christmas cards to the sightless of this community, stated that if any one knows of some suitable verses for this

Sierra Madre's Prize Palamino Herd Brings Fame To Its Fair Mistress

Mrs. Hazel I. Smith Restoring Strain Of State's Equine Aristocrats

When the Spanish invaders first conquered the land which is now California, they rode to victory on thoroughbred Spanish horses and the desert steeds of the Arab.

As warfare gave way to peace and huge ranchos were granted the decendents of the conquerers, these Spanish thoroughbred and Arab horses were interbred by the Dons producing a new strain of pure California origin known as the "Palamino."

These native horses were cream colored with white mane and tail, particularly hardy and with more than average intelligence. Under ideal range conditions, the Dons and Padres developed large herds of these beautiful animals but as the population pushed Westward and the great ranches were broken up, the Palaminos were scattered and later became almost extinct.

Within the past 10 years efforts have been made by various breeds to renew the Palamino strain but most of them failed to produce the proper color and soon lost interest in bringing back to its own, the native California horse.

Some eight years ago there moved to Sierra Madre, Mrs. Hazel I. Smith, a lover of fine horses and an equestrian of particular ability. Born in California and interested in Palaminos, Mrs. Smith determined to make a serious effort to breed a pure strain that would give again to the state its native equine aristocrat.

Realizing that in the selection of her original stock lay the keynote of failure or success, Mrs. Smith combed the state for the finest specimens she could secure. Finally in Northern California she located a stallion that suited her and after months of patient searching, a befitting mate was found.

From this beginning Mrs. Smith has succeed in establishing a herd of 16 pure Palaminos, in-

John W. Jones, Well Known Here, Dies At Home Of Sister

Word has just been received by F. L. C. Roess of this city of the death of John William Jones, a former Sierra Madrean, at Wolverhampton Staffs, England. According to information available Mr. Jones died on September , after a brief illness, and was at the home of his sister, Mrs. A. Langley, at the time of his death.

After spending considerable time in Canada, Mr. Jones came to California and located in Sierra Madre. During a fire on the Hastings ranch some years ago, he distinguished himself by rescuing a number of valuable horses from a burning stable, risking his life to save the stock.

He was born on the Isle of Jersey and was educated in France, later leaving England for Canada. Shortly after coming here he was employed on the Hastings ranch and was soon known to many of the townspeople.

Mr. Jones was a member of the Church of The Asscension. Interment was in the family burial ground at Wolverhampton Staffs, England.

Mr. Jones shortly after leaving Sierra Madre directed that THE NEWS be sent to his address in England, declaring he "must" know the happenings of this city and its people and from time to time this newspaper had received letters from him.

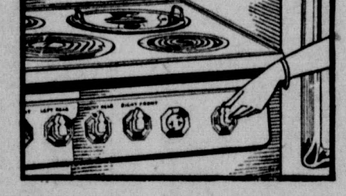
Not Long Ago . . . a Miracle



Today, a fact in 26,000 California Homes

Eleven years ago, Steinmetz, the great electrical wizard, predicted that in time to come our cooking would be done automatically, with the control of a dial.

Even electrical engineers thought then that Steinmetz was a bit too optimistic . . . that such an achievement would be little short of a miracle. But today, 26,000 California women know automatic cookery, at the control of a dial, as a fact.

In 26,000 California homes automatic cooking has become as commonplace, as natural, as automatic refrigeration . . . and it is as simple. It is as saving in time and labor and in the prevention of food spoilage. It is as clean, as cool, as dainty. It is as economical, in actual dollars and cents, when contrasted with the old-fashioned methods of cooking. All range users enjoy a special low rate.

No longer a miracle . . . no longer a luxury . . . electrical automatic cooking is the approved, accepted method in more than a million progressive American homes. Why not learn how easily you can install this modern method in your home . . . how much it will mean to you?

Phone your dealer or any Edison office for details, or, far better, drop in and see the beautiful modern models of automatic electric ranges.

In Your Garden--Now

What To Plant — What To Do

By JESSIE WARD RUSSELL
Landscape Gardener

USEFUL, ORNAMENTAL SUB-TROPICAL FRUITS

BECAUSE they are both useful and ornamental and adapt themselves to most any garden, there are two sub-tropical fruits that thrive wonderfully well in Sierra Madre that should interest every garden enthusiast here. They are the Sapotes and the Guavas.

The first Sapotes were brought to California by the Franciscan Fathers when they established the Missions. There is a Sapote tree now standing in Santa Barbara that is over a hundred years old.

At one time there was a very fine specimen growing here, on a vacant lot on North Baldwin Avenue which was planted there a great many years ago by a Mr. Harvey.

Many seedling trees have been grown from the seeds from this tree and destributed about Sierra Madre. Most of them have produced excellent fruit, like their parent, so that we have growing here some of the finest Sapotes to be had in California.

The Sapote fruit resembles an apple in appearance. Some are green and some are yellow.

They become soft like a peach when ripe. The flesh is a creamy white. The skin is as thin as a peach but smooth, like an apple.

It would be difficut to describe the flavor for it has one all it's own—the bitterness of old-fashioned dandelion greens.

The season of ripening is October and November. The fruit should be picked when fully developed and ripened in the house.

The Sapote tree will grow anywhere in Southern California and will stand a great deal of draught. It is apt to grow tall and lanky and should be toppped once or twice while young. A well-trained Sapote tree is quite ornamental.

GUAVAS:—The Red Strawberry Guava is the most popular variety grown here. It has a decided strawberry flavor, so much so that it makes good strawberry short cake if ripe fruit is used and the seeds removed and the fruit is mashed.

The principal use of this fruit is for jelly and it is about the most delicate jelly that is made.

There is a yellow type of the same flavor, but the jelly is not as colorful as that made from the red fruit. The strawberry Guava grows to be a very handsome dense shrub. It can be used as an ornamental shrub about the home. One of the best ways to use it, is as a hedge to divide the ornamental garden from the service yard or to screen out the orchard.

The guava needs lots of water. If it is allowed to wilt, it will drop its fruit.

The Lemon Guava is the name given to a large yellow fruit that is native of very tropical countries. This variety is very tender and can only be grown in very sheltered situations.

The pineapple guava or Feijoa is another very ornamental shrub with its greyish green foliage and deep flowers. It can be used the same as the strawberry guava in landscape work.

The fruit is about the size of a prune and has a pineapple flavor. The color is green, even when fully ripe. However it, is very simple to tell when the fruit is ripe because it calls your attention to the fact by throwing its fruit on the ground. Just gather up the fallen fruit each day and take it in the house where it will soon get soft enough to eat.

It can be eaten either raw or cooked as a jelly. The raw fruit cut up is delicious in fruit salads.

Advisor Urges Use Of Organic Matter In Citrus Groves

The grower of citrus fruits is reminded by Farm Advisor M. B. Rounds that organic matter is necessary regardless of whatever other fertilizer is applied and also that with the average application of organic fertilizer a supplementary application of nitrogenous fertilizer is usually necessary.

It is a practice necessary to maintain fertility and a satisfactory condition in the citrus orchard ,Rounds advises. In mature citrus orchards, he says, it is advisable to not only attempt to supply organic matter through the use of winter cover crops but also to supplement that crop with the annual application of manure, straw, or hay.

Mr. Rounds further states that evidence seems to indicate it is advisable to apply bulky organic materials so that approximately three tons of dry, organic matter are applied each year. If this is dairy manure it would mean an annual application of approximately 10 tons per acre, if straw or hay, probably three to three and a half tons per acre per year would be sufficient to supply the needed material.

A good cover crop grown in the winter will many times take the place of two or three ton application of manure. A good cover crop in a young orchard will somtimes forestall the necessity of applying other organic matter while the trees are still young.

ROBERT DREW SAW MORE THAN GOLD IN THE MOUNTAINS HERE

The charm of Sierra Madre took a deep hold on Robert Drew, the well-known Middle West bandmaster, orchestra leader and musical instructor who recently passed on at his home on Windsor Lane. He was particularly attached to the great, mysterious mountains that tower above the city. While he was ill last July he wrote of them as "My Mountains," as follows:

Men used to say that there was gold
High in these hills o'mine:
Say friend—there's wealth untold
But you don't have to climb,
Just sit here in the evening glow
And watch each sunset shine
Across each peak and then you'll know
This wealth that's always mine.
The wind and rain may sweep the fields
My hills stand guard—apart,
I'll wait for night—strong, unafriad,
Their glory in my heart.

Near Record Fruit Yield A Certainty

Many Products Exceed Estimates Made By The Experts

By UNITED PRESS

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 26—California's 1930 fruit crop is one of the most abundant in the history of the state.

This statement, referring to virtually every fruit crop grown in the state, is the outstanding feature of the latest Federal-State crop report issued here by E. E. Kaufman and R. E. Blair, agricultural statisticians.

With the greater part of the peach crop now harvested, Kaufman and Blair have increased their estimates of the total production, raising it to 693,000 tons.

Apple production is now estimated at 11,502,000 bushels, compared to 7,880,000 bushels last year; pear production at 227,000 tons, compared with 190,000 tons in 1929.

Grape production with the harvest under way is estimated at 2,078,000 tons.

The service still estimates the total apricot production at 209,000 tons.

As the almond harvest nears completion, a production of 12,500 tons is indicated, as compared to 4,600 tons last year and 14,000 tons in 1928. A crop of 31,000 tons is forecast for walnuts.

Prunes, with a state condition of 80 per cent of normal, will yield 234,000 tons. Plums, with harvesting well along, will total about 74,000 tons, as compared to 40,000 tons last.

The fig crop is estimated at 15,000 tons of dried and 6,000 tons of fresh fruit.

Little Fruit Lost In Shipment Under The Modern Method

During the heavy shipping months of May, June, July and August all lemon shipments of Exchange packing houses amounting to over 6,400 cars showed an average of only .71 per cent decay on arrival in the markets throughout the United States, according to H. J. Ramsey, field manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange. This is a new record for Exchange shippers in recent years, and reflects the great care exercised by the groups and the value of Exchange inspection service.

"There has been a growing appreciation among Exchange shippers during the past few years, of the importance of careful and correct handling methods in the prevention and elimination of decay," stated Mr. Ramsey. "Not only have handling methods in the packing houses been improved through cooperation between the field department and the associations, but much injury to the fruit which was formerly received during picking operations has been eliminated."

An important factor in the decrease of lemon decay this year has been that storage throughout the season was not heavy, due to favorable market conditions prevalent throughout the country, making it possible to move the fruit without much delay.

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys

AMONG those firemen who attended the San Gabriel Valley Firemen's meeting at Azusa last Tuesday were Hibbs, Richards, Norris, Swanson, Heasley, Petzel, Lovell.

The chief was dressed in a tailor made suit. His neck was covered with a white collar and black bow tie. He made a colorful appearance as he sat in his chair as president of this association. At times his face became very red from excitement and this with a miniature mustache over his upper lip made him most conspicuous.

How and why assistant Chief Norris was present will never be known. George talks so little that no one else gets a chance. After having been "bawled out" so much about bragging on the fire department's abilities, he has calmed down on that, but he must brag, so now he raves about the accomplishments of the fire department on increasing population.

Much was talked of at Azusa, pertaining to fire fighting. Very soon we have Fire-Prevention week. The chief has urged the writer to ask the folks to look about the old place and see if there might be a fire hazard astray. Look for such things as rags and open gasoline cans in the garage, oiled cloths in cupboards, matches placed where explosions may occur, and many things that are inflammable. Around the chimneys is a good place to work.

Soon we will be lighting up the fire-places and stoves. That vine has grown a lot and some of it has died and dried around the chimney. When we learn from other firemen of the many fires they encounter, it is little wonder that George Norris boasts on his men, and "Fire Flames" praises the people of Sierra Madre for their carefulness. We have very few fires considring our population and location.

FIRE'S OUT.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming the habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

You will find it less easy to uproot faults, than to choke them by gaining virtues. NO TIME TO LAY OFF SALESMEN, SAYS HEAD OF EDISON COMPANY

R. H. Ballard, president of the Southern California Edison Company, Los Angeles, has no patience with the calamity whiner, He said:

"More new business is what we need and not so much talk of depression. Spend the money for new business campaigns and new advertising, and the results will be surprising. The people have the money and will buy goods, I believe, if somebody has the courage to sell them the buying idea."

He pointed to increases in savings deposits, gains in new life insurance in force and increased buying of bonds as evidence of the ability of consumers to buy goods if they so desire. Affected however, by the pessimistic drift of national comment, the public is reluctant to buy and consequently is building up a tremendous backlog of purchasing power.

This backlog should and can be tapped, declared Mr. Ballard, if business men snap out of an apathetic state of mind and employ redoubled efforts to produce new business. This is not the time, in his opinion, to lay off salesmen and cut advertising appropriations.

Favorite Dishes of Sierra Madreans

GREEN rice as prepared after the favorite recipe of Mrs. L. E. Steinberger is not only "different," but uncommonly good in the opinion of many Sierra Madreans who have tried it. Here are the ingredients:

2 cups boiled rice, 1 cup chopped parsley, 2 cups canned milk, ½ cup chopped green pepper, 2 eggs beaten with 2-3 cup olive oil, one chopped medium onion and one clove garlic chopped fine; 2 packages green chili cheese (Bluhill) salt and pepper to taste.

Bake in a moderate oven 45 minutes, or until set.

And this is Mrs. Steinberger's favorite recipe for pepper hash:

12 (red) pimentos, 12 green bell peppers, 12 large onions.

Grind rather coarsely and cover with boiling water. Let stand 10 minutes and drain. Cover again with hot water; let mixture come to a boil and stand again for 10 minutes. Drain. Add two quarts vinegar, 2 tablespoonsful salt, 1 tablespoonful celery seed, hot pepper to taste, 1 cup granulated sugar, 1 tablespoonful mustard seed. Cook 45 minutes. Seal in sterilized jars.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS REALLY GOOD IN COVINA

Reports from many merchants and business men of Covina and surrounding cities indicate a distinct pick-up in buying in the last two weeks. Some of them have been busier in the last few days than they have been since the break several months ago, with prospects of the fall and winter season increasing sales and returning normal turnover.—Covina Argus.

ISN'T IT SO

The people who save money by not advertising, are frequently able also to save clerk hire owing to the small size of their business.—Reading Eagle.

NIGHT FOOTBALL GAMES OPEN AT WHITTIER COLLEGE

With fireworks and band music between the halves to add to the excitement, Whittier College will officially open Hadley Field, with its newly completed lighting system tomorrow evening, September 27, by playing its first night football game of 1930 aaginst the tough U.S.S.Oklahoma eleven.

The curtain will rise promptly at 8:30 p.m. on the opening number of Whittier's first season of after-dark football.

was made less than is usual for such concerts so that more people might be enabled to both hear the exceptionally beautiful program and have the happiness of knowing they were helping such a worthwhile cause.

"We want to drive home most emphatically that none of the money realized from this concert goes into our general fund. It all goes into the special Welfare Fund and is used only for the relief of actual need among the disabled men and their families. And we do not look upon this work ever as charity. It is a duty and a priviledge and we want our fellow citizens to cooperate with us in doing it willingly and thoroughly."

Chance for Students

In view of the fact that the auditorium at Pasadena Junior College is so spacious, the committee decided to give all students who care for music every opportunity to hear this wonderful program. Therefore the price of student admission was lowered to 25 cents.

The program, practically the same as one that charmed a large New York audience to enthusiastic plaudits of a new and brilliant star on the musical horizon, is as follows:

"Where E'r You Walk," Handel; "It Is Enough," Mendelsohn; "Malgre Moi," Pfiefer.

Aria: "Song to the Evening Star," Wagner; "Sommernacht," Erich Wolff; "Alle dinge haben Sprache," Erich Wolff; "Es ist alles wie ein wunderbarer garten," Erich Wolff.

Aria: "Vision Fugetive," Massenet; "Nocturne," Curran; "Waters of Minnetonka," Liewrance; "Trees," Rasbach, "Overtones," Rasbach; "Gifts," (dedicated to Mr. Thayer) Rasbach; "Homing," Del Riego.

VALENTINE BROST DIES IN ALHAMBRA

Samuel Valentine Brobst, one of the old West's pioneers, and father of Susan Brobst, of Sierra Madre, died last Saturday in Alhambra after a short illness.

Mr. Brobst was born June 9, 1851, in Catawissa, Columbia County, Pennsylvania and at the age of two years accompanied his parents Joab and Susan Brobst in a covered wagon from Pennsylvania to Bever Dam, Wis. After a number of years spent in Chicago in his early youth Mr. Brobst went to Butte, Montana, where he engaged in mining. Later he studied scenic and commercial art and went to Seattle, Wash., where he folowed this profession.

Previous to his death Mr. Brobst had made his home with his daughter here. He is survived by two daughters, Susan and Mrs. Leona B. Kilborne, of North Hollywood, three grandchildren, and one brother, Charles L. Brobst, of Los Angeles.

Funeral services were held from the Ray A. Grant Funeral Parlors in this city on Tuesday morning and the interment was in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

cluding 10 stallions and mares broken to the saddle as well as six colts now at pasture in the back country.

When interviewed at her charming home "Rancho Villa" in Sierra Madre, Mrs. Smith proved a gracious hostess and keen champion of the Palamino strain.

She is particularly proud of her own herd and justly so for experts have quite frankly admitted it is as pure a string, as can be found in America. There is nothing egotistical in Mrs. Smith's attitude toward her accomplishment. She quite naively tells you that her horses are the most important thing in her life aside from her children—that she will deprive herself personally to secure an additional good specimen of the strain.

"Bob" Smith, her son, is entrusted with the difficult task of breaking and gentling the Palaminos. That he has done his work well is evident for the animals are not only gentle under the saddle but respond to the slightest pressure of the rider's rein.

The range method of 'breaking" is used on the horses but when once they outgrow the first fear of being ridden they intelligently adapt themselves to the vagaries of their rider and develop a personality that is kindly in the extreme.

Miss Evely Smith, a lithe young lady of decided personal charm, is fast becoming known as one of the best horsewomen in the Southwest. Unlike most girl riders she spurns a saddle. She rides her mounts with blanket and surcingle and takes barriers steep, narrow mountain trails, and rough country alike, as sure of herself as the Sioux or Cheyenne.

When displaying ner horses Mrs. Smith believes in catering to their native color. Costumes are typically Spanish, riding gear that of early California. Conchos of shining silver embellish her saddles, while bits and bridles are heavily encrusted with like metal richly engraved and carved.

Miss Smith was selected to lead the $2,000,000 stock parade at the Los Angeles County Fair which thrilled the thousands that visited Pomona last Sunday.

The queenly young horsewoman was wildly applauded as she swung down the track mounted on Rey del Mundo ("King of the World") at the head of the magnificent string of prize winning animals from the farms and great stock ranches of California, Arizona, and other Western States.

"Home Employment" Bill In Modified Form For Pasadena

Pasadena's directors are wrestling with a "home employment" ordinance. In its original form it would have prevented the employment of any but legal residents of the Crown City on any public work there. A "legal resident" was defined as one having had a residence in the city of not less than a year. Conferences between th directors, representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and the building trades have made it obvious that it must be modified. A tentative provision permits the employment of 20 per cent of "outsiders" on a contract or public job. Another defines a legal resident as one having lived within the city for three months. Representatives of the builders say the whole proposition is a farcial and impractical effort to solve the unemployment problem and would react greatly to the disadvantage of the city by retarding its development.

SPOKEN "LETTERS" MADE ON A MACHINE WILL BE HERE SOON

Augusto Bisiri has the Radio Corporation interested in a scheme to take the bother out of letter writing. In fact instead of writing a letter you'd go into a booth much after the order of a telephone booth and talk your message. You'd start by dropping "two bits" into a slot. When you had finished talking, the letter, or message, would roll out of the machine on a little thin, almost unbreakable, disc that you could slip into an envelop and four cents in postage would send it anywhere in the United States. The recipient would merely adjust it on his talking machine and not only get your message but hear your "voice." Bissiri is carrying on his experiments at the Gillet studio in Hollywood, and within a year or so expects to see his booths almost as common throughout the country as weighing machines now are. And by that time he hopes to have the discs light enough to travel under 2 cents postage.

ECONOMISTS SEE SIGNIFICANT STRAWS

President Hoover's prediction that the income tax slash granted for 1930 can probably be made again for 1931, plus the surprisingly low unemployment figure shown by the census, are important straws indicating the exact business situation, say the country's leading economists.

The unemployment figure of approximately 2,500,000 is an estimate, the official figures not yet being complete, but is regarded by the Census Bureau as probably accurate. The figure is not much higher than estimates for the prosperous years of 1927, '28 and '29 and is much less than political party estimates put forward during the 1928 campaign.

If the national income is such that the income tax slash can be continued without putting the surplus in jeopardy, it seems reasonable to the economists that conditions are better than many would have us believe.

HEAVIEST SNOWS IN YEARS PREDICTED BY FOREST PROPHET

California's mountain regions are scheduled for the earliest and heaviest snowfall in the past 10 years.

The wise little chipmunks say so. And as weather prognosticators, they are seldom wrong.

Added to this is the declaration of many old Indians, who have memory logs of generations, that this winter will see a return of the deep snows of the past.

Word to this effect has been received by E. W. Clapp, general passenger traffic manager for the Southern Pacific, from W. L. Maynard, manager of the company's hotel at Truckee.

"Chipmunks are prepared for the coming of an early winter," Maynard reported. "Their larders are stacked full—30 days earlier than in many years."

Having acted as spokesman of the chipmunk tribe for more than a decade in the issuance of weather forcast, Maynard is certain that their latest prediction will come true.

Ducks Plentiful About Salton Sea; Season Opens Soon

Salton Sea has always been a concentrating point for duck hunters of Southern California, and the outlook for the coming season, which opens October 1st, is very favorable, according to the Touring Department of the National Automobile Club. Within the past few days large flocks of ducks have been seen, of which the Sprig and Widgeon have been in majority. Thousands of acres of barley and alfalfa are grown in this district which affords an immense feeding ground for the birds.

The lower end of the Salton Sea is located approximately 210 miles from Los Angeles, and paved highway entends all of the way, via the Valley or Foothill Boulevards to San Bernardino or Redlands, thence via Indio and the west side of the Salton Sea.

Car Owners Hold $5,000,000 In Taxes On Their Machines

California cities and counties are losing approximately $5,000,000 annually in taxes through failure of some 600,000 automobile owners to make a personal property return on their cars, according to the state board of equalization.

Los Angeles county had 823,620 machines registered last year, according to records of the state motor vehicle division, but only 544,354 of them were on the assor's tax roll, a survey by the board showed.

GOOD MOTOR OIL IS JUDGED BY:

1—Its ability to stand the heat of any motor with "cracking" or breaking down.

2—Its viscosity or the clinging to the metal bearings and working parts so as to furnish that FILM OF PROTECTION against friction.

3—And a pure paraffin base that will stand a thousand miles of hard, hot work and let you, Mr. Automobile owner, forget your oil worries until the sticker reminds you that it's time to drain your oil and refill with new.

NEW SCENIC MOUNTAIN DRIVE IS OPEN TO TRAVEL

The scenic mountain highway between Camp Baldy and Glenn Ranch is now open to traffic. This is still under construction, but traffic is permitted over it. It is wide enough for two cars all of the way, although a little rocky in places, with the exception of one mile which is quite narrow.

The Topango Canyon Road, Los Angeles County, is still under construction from the Topango Post Office and Mulholland Drive, and it is necessary to detour over the old road between these two points, advises the Touring Department of the National Automobile Club.

Mary Davie left Tuesday for the Oregon Agricultural school at Corvallis where she is enrolled.

NEW GREEK THEATRE IN 3,397-ACRE PARK GIVEN TO THE PEOPLE

Consumation of a noteworthy public benefaction was brought about yesterday when the $205,000 Greek Theater in Griffith Park, Los Angeles, was formally presented to the city and people of Los Angeles and dedicated with a special opening program.

The new outdoor theatre, declared by theatrical and construction experts to be one of the most perfectly designed and equipped theatres in th world, is the gift of the late Colonel Griffith J. Griffith, philanthropist and donor the the great park in which it stands. It was built by the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles, as trustee under the will of Griffith with funds assigned for that purpose, in cooperation with the Board of Park Commissioners of Los Angeles. To $100,000 willed by Griffith for carrying out the project according to plans made 18 years ago when he originally planned the gift, the bank added over $22,000 in interest accumulated during its stewardship, while the Park Board has expended about $80,000 additionally in order to construct a theatre measuring up to highest modern standards.

The new theatre is situate in a spot in Vermont Canyon, approximately a mile above Los Feliz Boulevard and Hillhurst avenue, nestled among the hills in a natural amphitheatre in the 3,793 acre Griffith Park.

REX BEACH'S GREAT STORY AT COLORADO

Thirty years ago, in the rocky canyon of Saturday Creek up back of gold-mad Nome, W. A Doyle, a young fellow just up from Kalamazoo, sat and watched Rex Beach jot down the notes from which "The Spoilers," the new, talking filmization of which came to the Fox Colorado theatre, Pasadena, last night for a week, was born as one of the best selling novels of all time.

After a lapse of 30 years, early in 1930, and 30 miles back in the mountains from Hollywood, W. A. Doyle sat and watched "The Spoilers" come to life.

Doyle is a watchman at the Big Tujunga dam. In Big Tujunga canyon, not far from the dam, Paramount built a large location camp for "The Spoilers." There, Gary Cooper and an important supporting cast recorded it as an entirely new, all talking screen production.

The "Doll Follies" Idea will be Fanchon & Marco's stage offering, featuring a large cast. Max Bradfield and his band will accompany and Fox Movietone News will complete the program.

FROZEN FACE KEATON TOPS SPLENDID BILL

A well balanced program has been arranged this week at the Fox Pasadena theatre, West Colorado street, in Pasadena. The feature is the latest and most hilarious comedy made by the frozen face comedian, Buster Keaton, who is seen to best advantage in "Doughboys," a constantly amusing picture dealing with the laughable side of the war.

Keaton proved he was a capable talking comedian in his first venture, "Free and Easy," but his latest picture puts him in the top notch of screen comics. Cliff Edwards and Sally Eilers offer valuable support to the star. A special added attraction on the program is 'Bottom of the World' which is the authentic talking picture record of the Kohl-Larsen expedition to the South Pole. This subject discloses many unbelieveable scenes, and shows incredible monsters.

Fox Movietone News will complete the entertainment.

IMPRESSIVE BILL AT WARNER'E EGYPTIAN

"The Way of All Men" with an all star cast including Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Noah Berry, Dorothy Revier and William Courtney, is attracting theatre patrons at Warner's Egyptian theatre, at Colorado street at Lamanda Park. Accompanying this feature on a double bill is Harry Richman in his sensational epoch of Broadway life "Putting On The Ritz."

Following these features on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, September 28, 29 and 30, the Egyptian will show the sophisticated society drama "Ladies Must Play," featuring Dorothy Sebastian and Niel Hamilton. This is a sparkling comedy drama. There will also be the talking comedy "Live and Learn" and the "Krazy Kat" sound cartoon 'Jazz Rythm.'

Another double feature bill will be shown on Wednesday and Thursday, October 1st and 2nd, when Dolores Del Rio and Edmund Lowe will appear in the inspiring adventurour film of the French Foreign Legion, "The Bad One:"

Lillyan Tashman and an all star cast will be seen on this bill in the Parisian light comedy "The Matrimonial Bed."

Hospital Records Show Improvement In Business World

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 26—(UP)—California's hospitals for insane and feeble-minded showed a tendency toward decrease in population last month for the first time since the first of the year.

A sudden increase in number of commitments shortly after January 1 was blamed by the state department of institutions on the curren business depression. The deparment says it indicates the worst effects of the depression have been felt.

"Border line" cases of insanity and feeble mindedness respond quickly to adverse economic conditions, according to Earl E. Jensen, director of the department. Whenever the business cycle starts downward it is followed shortly by an increased population in state hospitals.

Death Rate Falls Despite Influx Of The Sick And Aged

By UNITED PRESS

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 26—A complete revision downward of California's death rate has followed the state's huge growth during the last 10 years, according to the state department of public health.

Despite the large influx of elderly and ill persons from all parts of the nation, California's mortality rate, in the light of revised figures, compares favorably with those of other states.

The new figures reveal that the state had a death rate of 11.9 per thousand population last year, instead of the 14.7 death rate announced previously.

The revision comes as result of the completion of California's census and the new figures supplant those based upon estimates made from year to year of the state's population during the last decade.

"General health conditions in California are especially good," Dr. Walter M. Dickie, chief of the department said, "as is deonstrated by the new morality rate statistics. In spite of the heavy migration of invalids to this state, California's death rate is lower than is the general death rate for many other states in the Union.

STRIKING UNIFORM FOR CALIFORNIANS AT LEGION MEETING

California's delegates to the American Legion convention at Boston, October 6-9, will wear a distinctive uniform. It will consist of orange colored coats and caps, white flannel trousers, soft white shirts, blue sashes, orange bow ties, white shoes and white sox. The women in the party will be attired in white dresses and will wear orange bow ties, blue sashes and white shoes and stockings.

A special committee will devote itself to the campaign to secure the next national conclave for Los Angeles. The committee members have already begun their work and State Commander Gearhart is confident that the 1931 convention will be awarded this State.

Despite the world wide movement for peace, the disarmament treaties and various gestures of world powers, the industries manufacturing explosives are rapidly increasing their volume of business.

The California Federation of Labor convention in Marysville voted against the daylight savings proposal, denounced and demanded repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, but voiced its opposition to return of the saloon.

Senator "Joe" Robinson, of Arkansas, Democratic candidate for vice president in 1928, is becoming an outstanding Democratic presidential possibility, as endorsefor him on top of that given him by the State convention of his home state.

The dollar which the American citizen earned in 1926, if he still has it, will purchase 15 cents more goods now than then, and it will purchase 14 cents more than the dollar earned a year ago, according to the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

An analysis of the census figures by the California State Chamber of Commerce shows that during the last 10 years the state's population increased at the average rate of 400 a day. The most rapid growth was between 1920 and '23 and in 1927. Population of the cities increased 77.6 and the rural districts 40.4 per cent.

Robert Marcey, a Lyonhurst, Vr., World War veteran, proved that he had not been buried with military honors in Arlington National Cemetery and War Department officials are preparing to exhume the body that was thought and officially buried as his. The man now buried was killed in an automobile accident and identified as Marcey, by his sister. Marcey at the time was working in Baltimore and did not know until he later met his sister that he had been dead and buried for some time.

PASADENA PASTOR TO MAKE KEYNOTE ADDRESS

A program of exceptional merit has just been completed for the 41st annual convention of the Southern California Council of Religious Education to be held at the First Baptist church in Pasadena, October 1, 2, and 3. The theme for the convention will be "Spiritualizing Life through Christian Education."

The keynote address of the convention will be given by Dr. Merle N. Smith, pastor of the First Methodist church of Pasadena on Wednesday evening, October 1.

Dr. and Mrs. G. G. Hartman of Pasadena, who have just returned from three months on the Atlantic Coast, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hartman.

PASSING OF MISS PATTON

of the more hospitable of our healthful but rather exclusive foothill towns.

Although an invalid and a County "charge," Miss Patton was an asset to any community. For those material things—food and shelter—that she received, she gave abundantly from her "Alabaster box." And her Alabaster box was herself—a rich and lovely personality. She loved people, was interested in them—appreciated them, so they loved her and came to her for cheer, good fellowship, sympathy, encouragement and inspiration.

Not only the sick and discouraged came, but also many of the strong and well, who, as a rule never came empty-handed, and never left empty hearted. And by the magic ofe her personality, and that social gift which was hers, she made people interested in each other.

Next to her deep faith in the goodness, beauty and joy of life—which is God—the greatest jewel in her box was her quick responsive, warmly human, sympathy which made her ever ready to laugh or weep with you. To some of her intimates, especially among her fellow-sufferers, during her two years in Sierra Madre, her bedside was home and hearth and church and club to them. Not only the Great Lover, the Great Samaritan—but the Great Companion, dwelt in her soul.

The Sun Maid Rasin Growers of California have adopted resolutions protesting the "daylight saving" proposal that will appear on the November ballot.

The United States now has 364 cities having a population of more than 25,000 and less than 100,000. In the 1920 census there were 287 such cities.

council refered the matter to the police committee and empowered it to take action.

The date for the hearing of protests on the extension of Montecito avenue was set ahead to October 8 and a resolution was adopted authorizing the purchase of bonds for the Montecito project to the amount of $1008.28.

The resignation of Ellen Coll Barker as City Nurse, tendered when she was elected a teacher in the city school, was accepted as of September 15. Miss Barker was then re-employed as City Nurse and Deputy Health officer, effective September 15th at a monthly salary of $25. The coupe formerly used by the Health Department will be purchased by the Water Department for $100.

Thomas W. Neale recommended that the lake at Santa Anita dam be restocked with black bass and the City Clerk was instructed to communicate with the State Fish and Game Commission in an effort to accomplish this.

Engineer E. J. Lynde pointed out the danger in leaving the pepper tree at the corner of Mt. Trail and Grand View avenues as it is rotted at the base endangering those who pass it. Immediate action was requested of the City Planning Commission by the Council.

The annual statement of the city, relative to receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year ending June 30th, was presented by City Clerk Elmer F. Green, as was the report of City Engineer Earl J. Lynde. Warrants totaling $3493.50 were approved and a special meeting to clear up the unfinished business of the Montecito project was called for tonight.

The annual financial statement of the City Clerk will be found on page six of this issue of THE NEWS.

RANDOLPH WOOD VICTOR IN LOCAL TENNIS TOURNEY

The Sierra Madre Tennis Tournament was won last Sunday on the courts at City Park by Randolph Wood, of 253 North Hermosa street, who defeated Emile Smith of 249 Wilson by the scores of 7-5, 6-2, 6-2.

This is Wood's first year to play in the local singles although he is an old hand at the game and he is now tied for the association cup with Lewis Fuller, winner of last year's tournament. To win a cup permanently a player must win the finals two years in succession and as up to this time now player has accomplished two victories, the cups are still available for future play.

The men's doubles were won this year by Messers Wood and Smith who defeated W. Reitherman and B. Adams. In the women's section Wilma Morrell captured the singles championship while in the mixed doubles Marie Jenkins and Wayne Perry walked away with the honors.

MacARTHUR CASE AGAIN POSTPONED

The trial of Mrs. Marie MacArthur, former deputy city clerk of Sierra Madre, indicted for alleged falsification of the records of the Water Department and for embezzlement, has been postponed again. The case is now scheduled for October 20.

"Orange Grove Ave." Is New Name For A Very Old Street

"Orange Grove Avenue" is a street in Sierra Madre. Only the name is new, however. Until the Council met last Wednesday night and ever since Sierra Madre has been a city, it was "Live Oak avenue"—the city's southern boundary line and the thoroughfare skirting the Baldwin estate. The name came from the great live oak grove about the Baldwin homestead.

Fifty per cent of the property holders on the Sierra Madre side of the boundary thoroughfare agreed, by petition, to the change of name, which was requested by the Council of Arcadia. Property on the Southerly side of the street is in Arcadia, which has another Live Oak avenue that it all its own. So, to be neighborly and agreeable and everything, Council agreed.

"Orange Grove avenue" is appropriate, too, since beautiful orange groves adorn the Sierra Madre side of the thoroughfare for almost the entire length of the city.
